

On Thursday, March 21st, IIE Chapter 38 hosted its 2nd “Get Your Keuks at Gluek’s” March Madness social happy hour at Gluek’s bar in downtown Minneapolis. The event had a large turnout with 25 professionals and students from a wide range of Minneapolis/St. Paul’s diverse industries, including multiple representatives from Target, Boston Scientific, 3M, Andersen Windows, and U.S. Bank. The group watched the first round of NCAA basketball while enjoying beverages and hosted appetizers. In addition, multiple door prizes were distributed. The most sought after prize was the Industrial Engineering joke book. Turns, the funniest part was that it was actually not funny at all (wah-wah). Other prizes were two sets of Minnesota Timberwolves tickets, an IIE shirt, an IIE mug, and other IIE paraphernalia. Congratulations to the big winners and thanks to those who came out to network... we look forward to hosting another gathering with your attendance!
